• Amy Woolard (CW, 2002) is in her second year of law school at the University of Chicago.
• Ed Reilly (ST, 2006) has joined Franklin Street Marketing in Richmond.
• Nicole Przybojewski (CW, 2006) is working as one of two copywriters at Coates.
• Deborah Kakoma (ST, 2004) is a United Nations Expatriate Brand Consultant in New York. She has further developed the Exec Ed program.

We're very happy to also welcome Charles Hall as a full-time professor. The additions to our town, we'd love to have you join in the festivities.

We were looking for some strategic and creative firepower, please let us know your database.

If your agency has any real world projects for the school, please e-mail rboyko@vcu.edu.

Please keep us posted on new work you've produced. We like to share that.

Recruiters often call us with job openings, which we forward on to the Job Database.

I'll watch a movie about the thing I'm trying to think of.

My weakness: Staying on track. Meaning, she gets distracted by sparkly objects.

I can't help but get excited, which makes my job easier. I end up producing better work when I'm around her.

Strength 1: Her writing. She has a slightly creepy and wickedly truthful style that I love.

Jordan's main weakness: the worries.

1. You have worked together since you were students at the Adcenter and you were hired.

2. Chat with Arnette, Ricardo and the rest of the janitorial staff.

(WOMAN) in response to creativeskirts.com, but never did. That was a sorely missed out.
So nothing.

Susan:

3. You have worked together since you were students at the Adcenter and you were hired.

1. You have worked together since you were students at the Adcenter and you were hired.

2. Chat with Arnette, Ricardo and the rest of the janitorial staff.

(WOMAN) in response to creativeskirts.com, but never did. That was a sorely missed out.
So nothing.

Susan:

3. You have worked together since you were students at the Adcenter and you were hired.

1. You have worked together since you were students at the Adcenter and you were hired.

2. Chat with Arnette, Ricardo and the rest of the janitorial staff.

(WOMAN) in response to creativeskirts.com, but never did. That was a sorely missed out.
So nothing.

Susan: